TESTIMONIALS

*"We do it because it's the right thing to do."
-Joe Bourdow, Family Sponsor ValPak*

Anyone can sponsor the building of a Habitat Pinellas house – individuals, companies or the faith community. House sponsorships consist of both financial and volunteer support.

Individuals benefit by helping to create a perpetual legacy for their family or family foundation. A Habitat Pinellas house is transformed into a home by its owner, and provides lasting memories for the sponsoring individuals.

Companies benefit by supporting community involvement and providing opportunities for their employees to engage in positive team-building activities. House sponsorship increases their visibility in the community and enhances employee morale.

Congregations benefit by creating a tangible structure, putting faith into action, which creates fellowship, strengthens bonds, and inspires hope. Working together to build a Habitat Pinellas house provides congregants with a positive opportunity to enhance camaraderie, develop skills, and concrete friendships.

House sponsors are provided the opportunity to meet with the Habitat Pinellas OMNI Team to become familiar with all aspects of the building process, including:

- Construction overview and scheduled time line
- Volunteer procedures and schedules
- Collateral materials to include an introduction to the home owner candidate family and photograph and a logo for the sponsor's web site
- Sponsor recognition on signage at the build site
- Financing schedule
